Your boating SAFETY is our concern

Navigation

This 3 evening course provides you with the necessary skills to navigate a vessel safely in local waters. The course covers the use of charts, position-fixing, plotting a course, navigational aids and the effect of wind and tides.

Upon successful completion, participants will be awarded a Certificate of Achievement.

All training materials and charts are provided.

Advanced Boat Handling

This course is complimentary to the RST and includes advanced boat handling skills and basic coastal navigation.

It is intended for Skippers of small power boats, who have recently acquired a vessel or for those more experienced who want to extend their boating knowledge.

Qualified instructors assist in all training elements to ensure that you receive the very best guidance and advice.

Completion of this course is recognised by the award of an Advanced Boating Certificate.

The course runs over five evenings and then the practical is held one morning soon after.

Radio Operators Certificate

To operate a marine VHF radio you are required to hold an appropriate Certificate of Proficiency,

The Short Range Operators Certificate of Proficiency (SROCP) course covers aspects of installing, using and maintaining a marine VHF radio. It runs for 2 evenings .

The Long Range Certificate course (LROCP) course involves an additional evening which covers using MF/HF marine radio.

Each course concludes with a multiple-choice exam and Certificates of Proficiency are issued by OMC on behalf of ACMA.

Both the SROCP and LROCP are internationally recognised qualifications.

Personal Tuition

We can organise an experienced and qualified skipper to provide you with personalised tuition on your own vessel.

You can select the theory and practical topics you wish to have covered and how much time you would like to spend on personal tuition.
